ings, they will be given applications for membership in the county wheat production control association. Those signing these applications will be considered local members of the association and will elect a board of directors who will immediately appoint a county adjustment committee. This adjustment committee will check applications, make allotments, publish lists of allottees with acreages and production in local papers, and compile contracts. After the contracts are completed, they will be presented to applicants for local signature and the association will be set up and oilers elected.

Further information regarding the wheat production control plan will be supplied through the press from time to time and may be secured from county agricultural agents.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, July 31, at 3:30 P. M., for the late Mrs. Sue Spencer, widow of Charles Addison Spencer, of Buckingham Courthouse, whose death occurred at her home Sunday, July 30, after an illness lasting several weeks. The services were held from the Mayville Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was a lifelong and faithful member, and were conducted by her pastor, the Rev. C. A. Barrell, assisted by the Rev. S. A. Barrell, pastor of the Buckingham Baptist church; Rev. H. B. Lipscomb, pastor of the Farmville Methodist church; and the Rev. Cowan, pastor of the Buckingham Methodist church. Interment was made in the family plot at Buckingham courthouse. Her grandsons acted as pallbearers.

Mrs. Spencer was born and reared in Buckingham county, and was one of her county's most prominent citizens. She was a young girl during the Civil War, and was an outstanding authority on facts pertaining to the history of our country during that period. Up until illness overtook her a few

Father DARKLEAF'S Column

BY C.H.R.

Ah, whatta fisherman is Mother Brightleaf. Out into the waters of the Rappahannock she went Saturday never having snared a fish in all her sixteen plus summers. But, orchids to her, she pulled in exactly twenty-two! While I played second fiddle, the bitter shame of it. Whatta punch line for her.

Father Darkleaf has always been dimly aware of the fact that election polls opened at sunrise, but it had never occurred to me that folks actually got up to vote to take at that un-canny hour.

Now it appears that they do here at Appomattox at a rate Ragland Featherston was the first man to vote here Tuesday, casting his ballot in the virgin chasteness of a new ballot box at 5:15 A. M.
